Olga Bakay Wins 100% Honor In High School Subject

LAC LA BICHE — For the second time in three years a Lac la Biche student has made 100 per cent on a grade 12 final. In 1951 Don Blair made 100 per cent in Physics 2. The 1953 honors go to Olga Bakay for her achievement of 100 per cent in Biology 2.

Of the 22 students who wrote the grade 9 finals, 17 passed and five were unsuccessful. Congratulations go to Helen Luba for earning honors in every subject.

The students are at present enjoying the extension of their holiday ordered by the Provincial Health Board, but are quite mindful of the fact that there is a year's work waiting to be done when school finally reopens.

A total of 65 subjects were written by Lac la Biche grade 12 students in the June examinations. The following gradings were obtained:

Honors: 80-100%	3
A: 65-79%	8
B: 50-64%	28
C: 40-49% (Restricted pass)	23
D: Below 40 (Failure)	3

Civic Election Rumbles In City

EDMONTON—Plans for the Oct. 14 civic election are moving into high gear. The influential Citizens' Committee scheduled its organization meeting for Wednesday night. A total of 16 seats will be filled on the council and school board, and this year's election will feature a mayoralty contest.

Every adult should take time to exercise physically once or twice a week.

Switchboard Now Filled To Capacity

By T. W. PUE

Two years ago it was reported in the Lac la Biche Herald that the Alberta Government Telephones were waiting until there were 100 subscribers before inaugurating a 24-hour service. Headquarters of AGT later denied that this was the reason for not bringing local telephone service in Lac la Biche up to date.

But the Herald editorially criticized the bureau for not using foresight and enterprise in going ahead and establishing the 24-hour service in the faith and certainty that with better service the people of Lac la Biche would respond by more of them subscribing to the Telephone Service.

Now, however, just a few months after the actual installation of 24 hour service, Mrs. Calvert, local telephone agent, finds the present switchboard too small to keep up with the continuing demand for more telephones. There are 105 numbers in the present system and Jack Wolstenholme just had number 105 installed.

It is obvious that the more subscribers on any telephone exchange, the more value the service is to each and every subscriber. And the more useful any service is, the more people want it. Hence, it seems likely that the Alberta Government's new 24-hour service, being more useful to more people, should immediately plan early installation of a board capable of serving at least 150 subscribers.

Lac la Biche is a growing, progressive town with a big future and needs a telephone service capable of expansion to keep up with it.

Lac la Biche Dodgers Defeat Westlock Generals - Win Challenge Trophy

LAC LA BICHE—Lac la Biche Dodgers defeated Westlock Generals seven to five in a very close and hectic game of baseball.

The score was a very good indication of play throughout the nine innings, with the Lac la Biche club having an edge throughout the entire game. Inning by inning summary for Lac la Biche, one in third, two in fourth, one in fifth, two in sixth, one in ninth. Westlock, one in fourth, four in fifth.

A series of bunts by the Lac la Biche team proved to be very beneficial as score indications warranted three runs on bunts. Batteries for Westlock, Breniese and Roberts, Calahan and Roberts; for Lac la Biche, Zilinski and Benedatto, Teslin and Lett.

Players for Lac la Biche club: Watamanuk, Teslin, Gabriel, Plamondon, Mossich, Olstad, Lett, Benedatto, Zilinski, Harmon, Gesvais. Westlock club: Berezan, Roche, Feduk, Dahl, Calahan, Clearwater, DeRufford, Roberts, Breniese and Letourneau.

This game was a challenge game for what is known as the Challenge Trophy, presented by the Northern Alberta Baseball Association. The trophy was forwarded to Westlock where first challenge took place.

It is stated that the retainers of the trophy holds the rights to all challenges, and that these challenges are to be held at the place of the holder, which is now Lac la Biche. All challenges shall be presented to the Northern Alberta Baseball Association at Edmonton, and game arrangements shall be arranged through the association in order of entry.

District Agriculturist Moved To New Office

LAC LA BICHE—J. S. Lore, who for some time has occupied the former Wolstenholme Jewellery premises has moved "up street" to the new Mischuk Building. This is located next to the B & L Store directly across the street from Chas. Lebas' building.

Jack Wolstenholme says his former jewellery store is now available for rent. Last year Mr. Wolstenholme moved his stock of jewellery and repair shop to a new building opposite the Treasury Branch across from the NAR station.

Camp McGrane Now Has Lighthouse, Officers' Mess And Man-Sized Tractor

The Sea Cadet Camp period for 1953 is past and gone, but already Father McGrane is anticipating a big season in 1954.

Since the start of the building of Camp McGrane, sea cadets and visitors have seen it progress from an undeveloped tract of land bordering the lake, to a fully equipped camp for the training of sea cadets.

A flashing new lighthouse has taken its place at the Camp, to signal in realistic fashion to cadets

MORE NEWS NEXT WEEK

Rose McIntyre, local editor of the Lac la Biche Herald, is away on holidays this week. Hence a lot of the news will not appear in the Herald until next week, when she returns to town.

Meanwhile, if you have news of your club, church, or other organization, or if there is an interesting bit of personal news of family or friends, why not call Mrs. McIntyre?

Such co-operation will be sincerely appreciated — and you'll enjoy seeing such news in your paper!

We invite school teachers and district reporters to send us a special report on school opening. Names of teachers, numbers of pupils enrolled etc., will all combine to make an interesting news story of your district.

New Hotel Won't Be Open 'Til 1954

LAC LA BICHE — It looks as though the new hotel at Lac la Biche won't be completed until next spring. Work has been proceeding slowly but steadily, and wherever possible Ross Stefanik, owner and contractor, has been using local labor.

Lately Lac la Biche has become more and more popular as a sportsmen's fishing centre and considering the gradual population increase the opening of the new hotel will be welcome.

Meanwhile, the Lac la Biche Hotel has doubled the seating capacity of its beverage room with an extension on the north side of the old parlor.

More Boats On District Lakes

LAC LA BICHE—Lac la Biche and district lakes are becoming more and more popular with people who like to go out in boats, particularly the kind that enjoy holding a "kicker" control in one hand and a rod and reel in the other.

Consequently, more boats were kept at Beaver Lake, three miles south of town, than in any previous summer. The fantastic catches of 50 and 100 fish per day haven't been reported this year. But one young trucker from St. Paul caught 14 good-sized jacks in two hours casting near the south shore of Beaver Lake, in a row boat.

It's Back To School Monday Next!

Most adults ruefully reflect that "it didn't happen when we were kids". September 1st meant the first day of school and the school bell rang regularly five days a week until Christmas holidays.

But now, with poliomyelitis afflicting a number of young people in Alberta, the Government has held back the fall re-opening of school for two weeks. But, unless a last minute change is made in the plans, kiddies, this is it!

Better get that old school bag out of mothballs, and shine up an apple for the teacher! Because at 9:00 a.m. Monday, September 14, the bell will ring and you'll be back at your lessons!

With schools in town and district re-opening on Monday, mother will give a sigh of relief as she gets the household back on regular routine.

130 Miles To City? It Just Ain't So!

LAC LA BICHE—There's a sign at the south town limits of Lac la Biche on the highway to Edmonton that reads:

Boyle 49

Edmonton 130

As far as the tally to Boyle is concerned that is the approximate mileage (49), but if the figure of 130 is supposed to represent the number of miles to Edmonton it's wrong. Any careful motorist or trucker will tell you that after travelling just 130 miles from Lac la Biche via Boyle, Newbrook and Radway corner you'll just barely have reached Bon Accord. And you'll still be 19 miles from Edmonton city limits.

But, if you want to go downtown in Edmonton you'll find your speedometer clocking close to 155 miles and for all practical purposes that is the correct distance from Edmonton to Lac la Biche.

Labor Day week-end the highway to Edmonton, and the country roads, were generally good. Work continued on the stretch between Namas and Redwater, preparing the roadbed for hard surfacing. A small stretch of about two miles is now hard-surfaced near Redwater.

Rain! Why complain so much? The harvesting season seems to be open for good, many are in a worse position than we are.

Mr. and Mrs. Jos. Paulin, Mr. Omer Paulin's father and mother arrived Sunday afternoon with Mr. and Mrs. Frances Girard, all from St. Albert. Mr. Paulin had to leave on an important business trip to Grande Prairie that very same afternoon. Mr. Wilfrid Lamarre is looking after the management of the hotel.

Gerry Baldwin has been in Atmore for a week at his grandparent's place. He and Bud will be soon going back to school to Edmonton. Always welcome Gerry and Bud, we will need you for our hockey team.

Victor Paulin, who attended St. Anthony's College in Edmonton last year, has successfully passed his Senior Matriculation. Congratulations Victor for having succeeded Grade XII in one year.

Our distinguished young student of law, Josephine Blonski of Blue Jay is attending the University taking special courses before the opening of the classes. Her no less distinguished sister, Anne, will be teaching this year at Plamondon.

Mr. and Mrs. George Gravel had, last Saturday, a wonderful surprise. Since ten years their four children, Helen, Leonard, Jos and Keith had not met together. Helen, Mrs. Wilfrid Lipton and her husband motored from Ft. Flon, Man.; Leonard and his wife from Calgary; Joe and Keith with their wives from Avenir. It was a happy family reunion Mr. and Mrs. Gravel are not ready to forget. Mrs. Keith Gravel's mother Mrs. Telford, and her son Harvey were also of the happy party. Mr. Lipton will go and spend some time with his mother in Edmonton, while Mrs. Lipton will stay with her parents in Atmore.

Some people are again living the first settler's days, travelling on the same old trail they did years ago, our new modern road of the south being absolutely impassible. All are anxious to see that nice big new grader every farmer cooperated to buy in action in this part of the district.

Victor Genoud was on a business trip in Edmonton last week. He very kindly took with him Father St. Arnaud, who for the first time saw Athabasca, reported it to be a very nice country. Victor's garage is all done outside.

For a rest, Bobby Lefebvre went out blueberry picking on Sunday afternoon with his father and step-mother, who had motored to Jos. and Bill Duigon's, Mrs. Lefebvre's

Boyle News Briefs

Due to a heavy rain last week the farmers had to leave their harvest for awhile. It was nearly dry enough to start on again, but another downpour came recently which will mean a few more days of waiting.

Mr. Mike Fedec, former resident of Boyle, now working in the Imperial Bank in Grande Prairie, spent a few days in Boyle with his folks. He spent most of his holidays in Banff, Jasper, Lake Louise, and a few States. Upon his return, he spent the last few days in Boyle before leaving for Grande Prairie.

1 teaspoon sugar
Pinch of salt
Beat eggs, add milk, flour, sugar and salt. Pour about 2 tablespoons of batter into frying pan each time and fry as you would pancakes. Turn out on plate and spread one side with filling, roll up and place in shallow pan. When all are baked dot with butter and brown in a hot oven.

Filling—

Dash of cloves and nutmeg
Enough crushed nuts to suit taste
Mix well and spread on pancakes.

Good Threshing Necessary

The Barley Improvement Institute has issued its annual warning to barley growers, particularly those trying to make the malting grades, to follow proper technique in threshing their crop.

The Institute's advice is summarized in a bulletin written by S. L. Vogel of the North Dakota Agricultural College on "Threshing Barley for Malting Purposes." It is based on tests in the North Dakota section of the Red River Valley. With slight variations the tests and advice given are applicable to conditions in malting growing areas of western Canada. Where there are differences the Institute has indicated them in the text.

If copies are not available from provincial authorities growers may get a copy by writing direct to the Barley Improvement Institute, 206 Grain Exchange, Winnipeg.

The bulletin is of special interest to the 1,174 Alberta and Manitoba contestants in this year's National Barley Contest, again being sponsored by the brewing and malting industries.

Probably all entered in the contest can grow barley which will measure up to requirements of the malting trade, at least until they harvest their crop. Then because of improper threshing their otherwise good malting barley may go into feed barley grades, mainly because of broken kernels. Usually this loss in grade might have been saved by proper adjustments of cylinder speed of the threshing machine and proper concave clearance.

Malting barley must contain little or no skinned kernels to meet requirements of the malting trade. To grade "Malting" according to federal grade, barley must not have more than 5 per cent of these defective kernels. Maltsters of course prefer barley with no damaged kernels at all.

All models and makes of combines can be adjusted to do a good job. The Institute stresses that growers see it is done. It can save from $250 to $300 per carload in cash return.

Controlling Pasture Weeds

2,4-D can be effectively used to kill weeds and brush in pasture according to a report by H. A. Friesen of the Scott experimental station in Saskatchewan. If, however, there is a notable increase in proportion of weeds and brush the chances are the pasture is being overgrazed and the grazing load should be reduced sufficiently to permit the grass to recover.

A 2,4-D ester sprayed at the rate of 1 to 2 pounds of acid per acre will effectively control such weeds as pasture sage, goatsbeard, dandelions, goldenrod and gumweed. Similarly, a 2,4-D ester sprayed at the rate of not less than 2 pounds acid per acre in 10 to 20 gallons of water will effectively control brush such as willows and buck brush. Wild roses may be controlled by spraying with 2,4,5-T. The brush may be sprayed while actively growing or in the dormant season. But if sprayed while dormant, 10 to 20 gallons of diesel oil per acre should be used as carrier rather than water. It may be necessary to repeat the treatment to obtain complete eradication.

Aerial Farming On Increase

An airplace is becoming increasingly valuable in North America as an instrument for the quick and widespread spraying or dusting of crops and woodlands with pesticides and insecticides. Across the world, in New Zealand, it has found another farm use—the spreading of fertilizer. Agriculturists report that acres of rugged, hilly country there have been converted into excellent pastureland, capable of supporting many times more cattle and sheep than previously, by fertilizer spread from the air.

The Bible Today

Ye are the light of the world. A city that is set on an hill cannot be hid. Matthew, V, 14.

We Need 25,000,000

There are millions of good, honest, hard-working people in Britain, the Low Countries, Germany and Italy who would like the opportunity of coming to Canada and making a home for themselves. To provide for Canada's future, the vast, sparsely populated domain of Canada should be thrown open to mass immigration. The long range view of our population needs undoubtedly is that Canada should admit millions more of these people. We have, however, only a very short range view of the situation and the newcomers to Canada come only in a trickle.

Canada could have a population of 25 million by 1980 says the current review of the Bank of Nova Scotia. Annual national production will then reach 65 billion dollars at present prices.

This prediction is predicated on the premise that world demand will continue for Canada's surplus population of basic products and that a severe world wide depression will not intervene.

If Canada had a population of 25 million people, farmers in this country would have a home market for their production of meat, dairy and poultry products, also vegetables and fruits. There would likely be a reduction in acreage devoted to wheat production. More then would be sown to oats and barley to provide feed for a larger animal population.

The Chinchilla As A Farm Investment

By ROBERT CRAWFORD, Onoway, Alta.

This animal is naturally hardy and does not require elaborate housing. A basement, an outside building such as a chicken house or a garage is also satisfactory. The room or building should be such that the temperature does not exceed 80 degrees, 55 to 60 degrees is about right.

Cold does not seem to affect them much, but heat can cause trouble. It is best to insulate to keep the temperature within reason. This animal has no known disease and is not infested with either fleas or lice, and it has no odor. It must also be remembered that Chinchilla is the softest and most desirable and beautiful of all furs. It is easy to see why garments of this unusual fur should always be in great demand.

The large corporation today considers itself lucky to make 6% net profit, the investor 8% on his investments, and the retail merchant 30%. Yet the Chinchilla raiser can usually make much more, when you consider the fact that he may receive hundreds of dollars per pair for small animals which cost him only a few dollars to produce.

It must be realized that if Chincalla raisers are to make a tidy sum from the sale of breeders he must sell while a backlog of orders for breeding stock remains. The time to get into Chinchillas is now while the high prices for breeding stock remains.

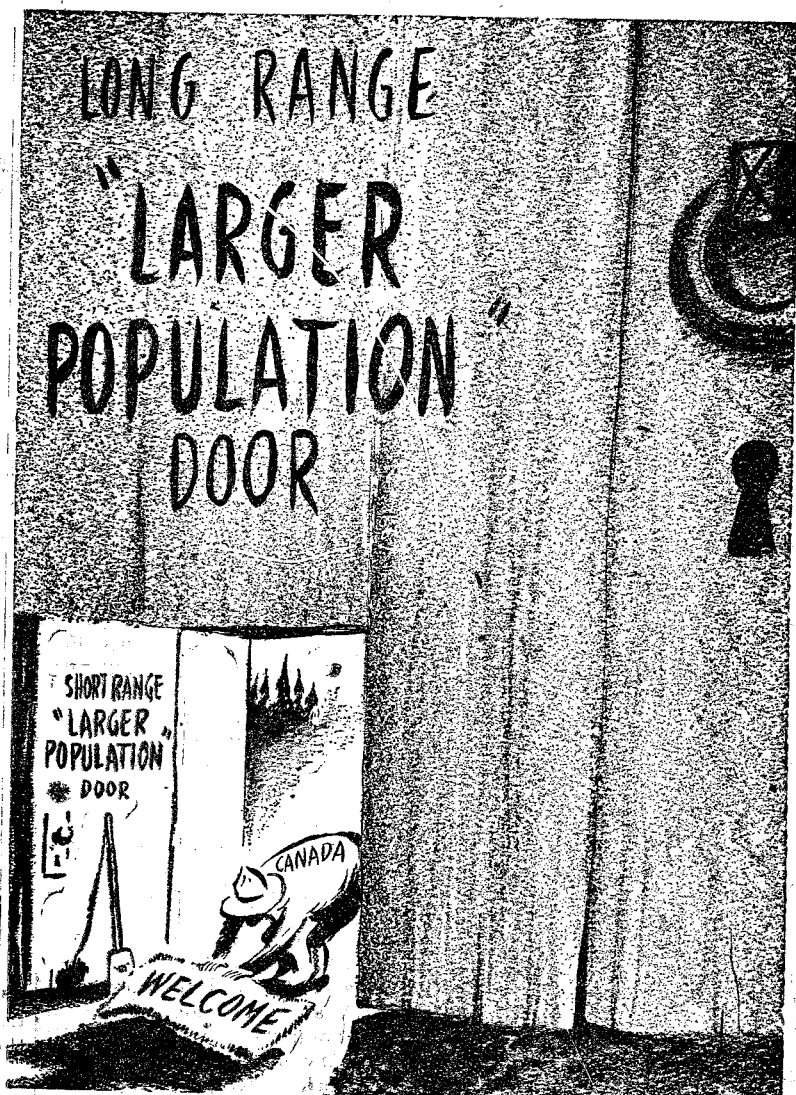

Pelting will not begin for a few years yet. A few years ago one fur authority predicted that Chinchilla pelts should have a pelt value of $250 each when they arrive on the market in quantity. A few pelts may bring that price, but pelts vary with conditions and quality, so let's be very conservative and not even use a $150 or $100 figure, but let's drop down to $25 instead. But we can expect more than this.

Say one has 200 pairs of adult animals when pelting production begins. By using the $25 figure he could be expected to have an annual gross income of as much as $20,000, and remember there is very little actual feeding expense when compared to meat consuming fur bearers. Remember it only costs about $2.50 to $3.00 each to feed them for one year.

Last but not least, the Chinchilla business is an undertaking which is not overworked. It is a venture which can furnish many years of pleasure and profit in the future to those who see its advantages today.

Men Of Valor

One of the moving scenes in biography is the story of a future President of the United States as a grown man down on his face and stomach like an infant struggling to crawl across the floor and gain strength again to walk after being stricken with polio in his prime. Without complaining or whining, without dismay or despair, Franklin Delano Roosevelt conquered his infirmity, and four times was elected to the highest office in the land.

Voice Of The People

PAYING TAXES

Nobody likes to pay taxes. However, it is usually conceded that the income tax is the fairest of any taxes we have, and the Canadian income tax in kindest to those in the low income brackets.

In Canada, a married man with an income of $4,000 pays $380; in the United States, $538, and in the United Kingdom, $980. But a married man with two children and a salary of $50,000, would pay an income tax in Canada of $23,574, and in the United States, $20,428.

There is one other advantage to Canadians, those with children receive Family Allowances.

The Social Credit members in Ottawa still claim that all taxes are unnecessary. However, people who have lived in Alberta for the last seventeen years would know what a laugh that is, for municipal and school taxes have trebled in this province under the Social Credit administration. Even taxes on gasoline have increased 4 cents a gallon since 1935.

One who pays taxes.

CONFUSIN', AIN'T IT?

I sincerely wish that the individuals who use "aren't I" in place of "ain't I," and feel they are conveying the essence of culture by doing so, would stop to realize that "aren't I" is equally incorrect. "Am I not" is good usage and it sounds much better, n'est-ce pas?

HE VOTES FOR GENTS

I disagree wholeheartedly with those who say there is nothing attractive about the male physique. Many men, especially athletes, have fine, attractive bodies. The male form is just as artistic, if not more so, than the female form when nude.

PROUD MALE.

ISAIAH 44:7

"And who as I shall call and shall declare it, and set it in order for me since I appointed the ancient people? And the things that are coming and shall come. Let them shew unto them (the appointed will show us all things). But all professed Christians for centuries have prayed: Thy kingdom come, Thy will be done on earth as in heaven. But rulers of this world do not desire God's kingdom. They desire to continue their own schemes to rule the world.

Seems to me something is wrong. Either Christ and Paul are mistaken as to what a Christian is to expect. Or some are professing to be Christians without the identifying mark of true Christianity. I proudly sign my letter as a servant of Jesus Christ.

My four-year-old brother wanted some money so I gave him a few cents. Later he asked for more "to buy gum" but he already had enough and would likely lose it before getting to a store.

In the evening he hung around me at milking time and seeing the cow-chewing her cud said, "How come I can't get money for gum when you get chewing gum for the cows?"

Mrs. Pickoch was frying doughnuts. Our youngster, Kenny, unusually quiet, was longingly gazing at the fried doughnuts. Finally he said, "Mummy, why don't you talk to me." His mother replied, "I have no time to talk, and besides what can I say?" After an interval Kenny said, "Mummy, why don't you say, 'Kenny, try this doughnut; see if it's done.'"

LETTER TO LOUISA

Wedding Bells Delayed Because Man Rejects Idea Of Wife Working To Help

Dear Louisa:—

The boy I am engaged to has been rejected by the army. He is a fine fellow but has never been a money-maker. He has a job and really works hard but he makes very little more than I do. We have been engaged a long time and he is beginning to worry about me. He says that his prospects are so poor and that he feels that he is treating me unfairly by keeping me bound to him.

Now, Louisa, we could be married tomorrow if he would only be willing for me to keep my job but he has always said that his wife shall not work outside the home. Don't you think this is a silly stand for him to take?

"DISCOURAGED"

Answer:

I think it is far better for two people who love each other to go on and get married and both of them help make the living than to keep on being engaged year after year with no prospect at all of getting married. I think, too, that it is better for you to "keep on working at your job than to marry and have to work yourself to death trying to make one dollar do the work of five.

Why some men are willing to let their women slave and drudge 16 or 17 hours a day at home for nothing and object to them working six or eight hours a day in an office for good pay is a mystery. In these times, particularly, where there is no place for an idle man or woman, it is essential that every person keep on with the job that he or she can do especially well.

I do not advocate a woman with little children working outside the home unless by doing so she furnishes the necessities of life. No one can take the place of a good mother and a child's welfare and morals are more important than luxuries. But there is no reason in the world for an able bodied woman to live in idleness just because she is a married woman.

LOUISA.

Grassland News Briefs

Forty-one relations and friends gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Jenkins for a surprise birthday party in honor of Mrs. L. A. Jenkins, who was 86 years old on August 22.

Included among the guests were Mr. Will Everett from Vancouver, Mrs. Mattie Pritchard, her son Glen and family, from Edmonton; and Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Jenkins and Archie, of Bon Accord.

After the birthday party a five-generation picture was taken, which included the great-great-grandmother, Mrs. L. A. Jenkins, great-grandfather R. J. Jenkins; grandfather O. A. Jenkins; father Leslie Jenkins, and baby Della Jenkins. The baby has no less than ten grandparents.

We regret to report the death of Mr. W. Nykolyn, which occurred in Edmonton on the third of September. Mr. Nykolyn was the father of Mrs. Semenjuk, of Grassland. Immediately on receipt of the sad news by telephone early Thursday morning, Mr. and Mrs. Semenjuk left for the city.

Dakin School has arrived in Grassland. Contractor for moving the building was Fishbourne of Edmonton. N. Semenchuk and his truck assisted in the final placement of the building on its new foundation.

Surprise Party For Stan Ballard

ATMORE—Rain or moonlight, all crowded in a wagon hitched to Allan Baldwin's tractor, the youth of Atmore merrily made it to Stan Ballard's place on the night of the 29th.

It was Stan's 21st anniversary and nothing would have stopped them from giving Stan a surprise party.

Stan is a fine young gentleman, nice to everyone, cooperative in every community organization, one all like to see around.

Many presents were offered him but especially wishes of happiness and joy on his 21st anniversary. Everyone enjoyed the evening.

Helina News Briefs

Harvesting is the main topic around the district these days. Rain has held back the cutting of grain for the past few days. The farmers are hoping that the frost will stay away till they get some or all of their grain cut.

Mrs. Ed Locke and family were visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wilmer Elliott for one week. Mr. Ed Locke was out two days, also. They have now returned to their home in Edmonton.

The district is sorry to hear of Mr. Keeper's illness. He is that he will be well soon.

Several trucks and tractors have been purchased by district farmers this summer. They are as follows: Mr. Earle Whelen, a truck and also a tractor; Mr. Jack Hood, a tractor; Mr. Floyd Keeper, a new 1953 Ford tractor; Mr. Frank Onchul, a Ford truck. The dust will be flying now except when they get stuck in some of the mud-holes around here.

Peter and Eli Suhan have left for harvesting. They are working at Wainwright.

Some of the people attended the dance at Rich Lake which was held on August 28. Those who attended reported having a good time.

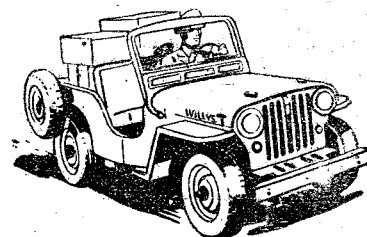

The annual UFA meeting was held at the old Helina school on August 22.

The Andrichuk Bros. have been busy bulldozing trees around the district for different farmers.

The people of Helina are glad to hear that shows will be held again in the former Helina school.

Mr. George Suhan has returned from a trip to Wainwright. He went with Mr. Evans and Louis Lemay.

HEALTH UNIT NOTES

This week, continuing my notes on water supplies, I am going to deal with Protection of Wells from Surface Pollution.

Assuming that water has been found at a location suitably sited, the next step is to provide proper and effective protection so that surface pollution is avoided.

If the well is dug or bored, it is very essential that the casing or cribbing be carefully selected and installed. At least the upper eight or ten feet of the cribbing should be absolutely watertight. The larger the diameter of the well the greater is the possibility of surface contamination.

Square or rectangular wells are not recommended as they are more difficult to crib tightly unless concrete is used. Timber cribbing should be two inch material or greater. Shiplap is not satisfactory for well casing. A water supply which is otherwise satisfactory is well worth the expense of proper protection.

Open type wells, in which a pail or bucket is used for drawing the water are likely to be dangerous and cannot be approved. Practically all samples from such wells are found to be contaminated. All wells should be provided with a pump preferably an iron one.

Another necessary consideration in proper well construction is the cover. Few people realize the importance of a water-tight cover. Examine any dug or bored well and usually it will be found that water which is pumped onto the cover or is spilled will gradually seep back into the well, carrying with it pollution from the feet of the person who has last used the pump, or droppings from chickens and animals which have free access to the cover.

Concrete is the most satisfactory material for a well cover. A concrete slab does not mean much expense, and is cheaper and more durable in the long run than any other cover. The slab should be not less than four inches thick and should be reinforced with iron rods. Concrete should be made of one part cement to four parts of clean pit run gravel, and only enough water should be added to form a workable mixture. The wooden forms for the slab should be placed in such a manner that they can be easily removed when the concrete is set. The concrete should be cured for several days by keeping the surface moist. Reinforcing should not be placed more than one inch from the underside of the slab.

If for any reason a wooden cover is used, it should be made of two-inch checked planks and covered with galvanized sheet iron. One inch wood sheeting even though covered with sheet iron is not satisfactory. Two ply tongue and grooved flooring covered with galvanized iron makes a good cover where concrete is not used. It is of course important that the openings at the base of the pump be tightly sealed.

Dug and bored wells should always have a manhole or trap door in the cover to permit access to the well when needed. The manhole cover should not be provided with a handle or any means by which it may be lifted too easily, otherwise it might be removed by children, resulting in danger both to the child and the well.

The manhole cover and pump base should form the highest points of the cover and the latter should slope away from them on all sides. The tops of wells should be six to twelve inches above ground level, or as much as two or three feet if there is any danger of the area being flooded.

When the concrete covers are made, suitable holes must be left in the slab for the casing and for such bolts as are required by the pump. The pump may be set on a small concrete base which is raised four to six inches above the cover.

A large percentage of wells in this area are not fenced in or protected in any way from farm animals, dogs and fowls. This is one of the reasons why samples of water from so many wells show evidence of animal pollution. Every well used for domestic purposes should be either covered with a shed or fenced in. The trough used for watering stock should be outside the fence or shed and the water conveyed to the trough from the pump water tight conductor.

New wells should always be chlorinated before being put into use as it is almost impossible to avoid contamination during construction. Sterilizing should not be done until all work is completed.

Silent Holdup Men Take Wallet Less $1

DENVER, Col.—Marion Jackson, 60, told police that, as he walked toward his home, two men stepped from an alley and one pointed a gun at him. The other man took Jackson's wallet, from his pocket, removed a dollar bill from it and handed the bill to Jackson. Then they vanished with the wallet and its contents—$60. Not one word was spoken by any one of them.

Don't Say 'Can't', Plants Still Grow

TULSA, Okla.—For the past nine years Bob Hansen has watched two clusters of strange plants grow in his yard. Recently, they were examined by a botanist, who said they were sotols, a rare desert species, which "can't grow in Oklahoma climate." Hansen isn't convinced, however, because the plants are now ten feet high and still growing.

Sun Dances: People Scared

TUCSON, Ariz.—Excited and frightened people swamped the weather bureau here recently with reports that the sun was jumping and wiggling and turning green. The explanation: Dust was rising to a height of 35,000 feet, 200 miles to the west. The dust caused the odd color and an inversion air layer made the sun seem to go through surprising motions.

JEANNE LOUISE CHEVIGNY WEDS WALTER MIDDLETON

By MRS. O. CHEVIGNY

PLAMONBON—To every joy of meeting always comes the sorrow of parting. And so this is what happened Friday morning, Aug. 28, as our visitors from the States took their departure.

Needless to say how each one felt for the expression on each one's face told the tale. However, everyone kept as calm as possible under the circumstances and the goodbyes to the dear old mother were accompanied by these words: We shall come back again soon.

Let us hope to see them again before many years. And as they roll along the highways that are bringing them back home, our prayers accompany them for a safe return trip. All the lovely family gatherings shall long live in each one's memory.

Two lovely gatherings were held Monday and Wednesday before they left. Monday, Aug. 24, gathered the whole crowd at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Chevigny, who celebrated the marriage of their daughter, Jeanne Louise, to Walter Middleton.

The marriage ceremony was performed by Rev. Father Ricard at 3 p.m. The bride looked very sweet in a traditional long white dress and trailing veil, held in place by an orange blossom wreath.

The bridesmaid, Miss Lucille Gauthier, looked charming all dressed in pink, as she preceded the bride, who came on the arm of her father who gave her away. The groom, tall and handsome in a grey suit, was accompanied by Mr. Octave Chevigny. The best man was Albert Chevigny, brother of the bride.

The wedding reception was held picnic style under the lovely stalwart trees beside the lake. The spot was ideal, the lovely trees all decorated with streamers and flowers, and the little altar erected in honor of Our Lady of the Cape, in front of which the marriage vows were exchanged, was beautiful. Lovely hymns were sung by the bride's aunts to the strains of the sweetest music. All agree that this was the loveliest scene ever witnessed.

A lovely three-tiered wedding

Forestry Association Shows Free Film

LAC LA BICHE—The Aurora theatre in Lac la Biche threw its doors wide open to patrons at 2:30 p.m. Saturday, Sept. 5. It was for the showing of free movies sponsored by the Canadian Forestry Association and the local Provincial Forestry Service.

The picture would undoubtedly have been of intense interest to children as well as grown-ups but for the police ban. No children being allowed to attend, they could not see "Beaver Valley," a true life adventure of "nature in the raw" by Walt Disney.

In posters advertising the free movies the association reminded everyone that "Everybody loses when a forest burns." A timely reminder of the need of care to save our forests from fires.
